ABSTRACT

In a national poll conducted in 1988, 83 percent of the American people felt that the nation's drug problem was "out of control." In 1988, Congress, responding to the public mandate, passed the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. Title III of the Act specifically addressed these issues by authorizing two anti-drug programs for youth. These two programs were developed by the House Committee on Education and Labor as the Committee's part of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. Currently the war goes on. It is estimated that over one million youths run away from home each year. A 1990 study conducted by the National Network of Runaway and Youth Services found that among runaway, homeless, and other high-risk youths served by community-based agencies, 46 percent had a substance abuse problem and 14 percent were addicted to alcohol or other drugs. Youth street gangs are growing rapidly. The Committee on Education and Labor heard testimony from both public and private community-based organizations relating to the value of multi-agency consortium grants. This report presents proposed amendments which add multi-agency grants, designate funding, and require an annual report. An explanation of the bill, Congressional Budget Office estimate, section-by-section analysis, and the Act with proposed amendments are included. (LLL)

The Committee also held one field hearing on the reauthorization of Title 3(b). The hearing took place on August 2, 1991, in Downey, California. Testifying were: Mr. Jamaal Wilkes, Smooth as Silk Incorporated, Los Angeles, CA; Mr. Bruce Coplen, Chair, L.A. County Interagency Gang Task Force, Los Angeles, CA; Mr. Gary Yates, Associate Director, Division of Adolescent Medicine, Children's Hospital, Los Angeles, CA; Mr. John Peel, Los Angeles Youth Network, Los Angeles, CA; and Mr. Steve Valdivia, Community Youth Gang Services, Los Angeles, CA.

H.R. 3259 was introduced by Mr. Martinez on August 2, 1991. On September 24, 1991, it was considered by the full Education and Labor Committee, a quorum being present, and ordered reported with an amendment by voice vote.

III. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

In a national poll conducted in 1988, 83 percent of the American people felt that the nation's drug problem was "out of control". In that same year, a Gallup Poll reported that "recent outbreaks of violence among gangs competing for the lucrative drug trade and various reports documenting the continuing influx of narcotics into this country have renewed attention on the immensity of the drug problem." In addition, more and more evidence was surfacing showing that there was an increase in the number of "at-risk" (truant, runaway and "incorrigible") youth exhibiting drug and alcohol problems.

In 1988, Congress, responding to the public mandate, passed the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. Title III of the Act specifically addressed these issues by authorizing two anti-drug programs for youth. These two programs were developed by the House Committee on Education and Labor as the Committee's part of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988.

The first program, Drug Education and Prevention Relating to Juvenile Gangs, was funded at a level of $14.8 million in FY 1991. This program requires the involvement of families and communities in a range of projects designed to prevent or reduce illegal gang activities and drug abuse among youth.

The second authorized program is Drug Education and Prevention for Runaway Youth and Homeless Youth. Also funded at $14.8 million in FY 1991, this program provides funding for service projects, research, and training designed to prevent or reduce the illicit use of drugs by this at risk population of youth.

Currently, the war goes on. It is estimated that over 1 million youth run away from home each year. A 1990 study conducted by the National Network of Runaway and Youth Services found that among runaway, homeless and other high-risk youth served by community-based agencies, 46 percent had a substance abuse problem and 14 percent were addicted to alcohol or other drugs.

Youth street gangs are growing rapidly. The two best known gangs, given notoriety by the movie "Colors", the "Crips" and the "Bloods", began in Southern California approximately 20 years ago. They now have affiliations in 32 states and 113 cities. Daily media reports show that this is not just an inner-city phenomenon and that drugs and violence are moving to the suburbs.

It is the feeling of this Committee that these programs are vital to Congress' continuing commitment to the war against drugs.

IV. EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

SECTION 1. DRUG EDUCATION AND PREVENTION RELATING TO YOUTH GANGS

Amends Section 3501 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (ADAA) (42 U.S.C. 11801) by adding multi-agency consortiums as designated entities to which the Secretary may make grants. The Committee heard testimony from both public and private community based organizations relating to the value of multi-agency consortium grants. The committee recognizes that these grants encourage inter-agency cooperation and provide for a continuum of services to a targeted at-risk population and wishes to support this concept.

Amends Section 3505 of the ADAA (42 U.S.C. 11804) by establishing new authorization levels of $16 million for fiscal year 1992 and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal years 1993 and 1994. This authorization level reflects a $1.2 million increase above the 1991 appropriation. The Committee has provided this increase for the purpose of funding new direct service programs.

Adds new Section 3506 of the ADAA requiring the Secretary of HHS to submit an annual report to Congress detailing the types of projects and activities funded for that year including number and characteristics of those served by the projects, and identification of exemplary projects, if any. This language was added to conform the youth gang program with the runaway and homeless portion of the Act which already contains this requirement. The Committee feels that it is important to receive these reports in a timely manner in order to enable Congress to review the programs and assess their effectiveness.

SECTION 2. PROGRAM FOR RUNAWAY AND HOMELESS YOUTH

Amends Section 3513 of the ADAA (42 U.S.C. 11823) by establishing new authorization levels of $16 million for fiscal year 1992 and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal years 1993 and 1994. The Committee has provided this increase for the purpose of funding new direct service programs.

V. CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATE

In compliance with clause 2(1)(3)(C) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the estimate prepared by the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 403 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, submitted prior to the filing of this report, is set forth as follows:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, September 25, 1991.

Hon. WILLIAM D. FORD,
Chairman, Committee on Education and Labor,
U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: As requested, the Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 3259, the Drug Abuse Prevention Programs Amendments to the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988, as ordered reported by the Committee on Education and Labor on July 30, 1991. Enactment of H.R. 3053 would not affect direct spending or receipts. Therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply to the bill.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them.

Sincerely,

ROBERT D. REISCHAUER,
Director.

Enclosures.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

1. Bill number: H.R. 3259.
2. Bill title: Drug Abuse Education and Prevention Programs Amendments to the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988.
3. Bill status: As ordered reported by the House Committee on Education and Labor on September 24, 1991.
4. Bill purpose: The purpose of this bill is to authorize appropriations for drug abuse education and prevention programs relating to youth gangs and to runaway and homeless youth.
5. Estimated cost to the Federal Government:

(By fiscal years, in millions of dollars)

	1992	1993	1994	1995	1996
Drug education and prevention relating to youth gangs:
Authorizations	16	17	17
Estimated outlays	3	15	17	14	1
Programs for runaway and homeless youth:
Authorizations	16	17	17
Estimated outlays	3	15	17	14	1
Bill total:
Authorizations	32	33	34
Estimated outlays	6	31	33	27	2

The costs of this bill fall in budget function 500.

Basis of estimate: For Drug Education and Prevention Relating to Youth Gangs, H.R. 3259 authorizes for appropriation $16 million for fiscal years 1992 and such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 1993 and 1994. The same amounts are authorized to be appropriated for the Runaway and Homeless Youth Program. The 1993 and 1994 authorizations for both of these programs were estimated by increasing the 1992 stated amount for projected inflation. Estimated total outlays assume full appropriation of authorizations and reflect the spending patterns of existing programs.

6. Pay-as-you-go: Section 252 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 sets up pay-as-you-go procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or receipts through 1995. 8. Estimate comparison: None.

9. Previous CBO estimate: None.

10. Estimate prepared by: Karen Watkins.

11. Estimate approved by: C.G. Nuckols, for James L. Blum, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

VII. INFLATIONARY IMPACT STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 2(1)(4) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee estimates that the enactment of H.R. 3259 will have no inflationary impact on prices and costs in the operation of the national economy. It is the judgment of the Committee that the inflationary impact of this legislation as a component of the Federal budget is negligible.

VIII. OVERSIGHT FINDINGS OF THE COMMITTEE

With reference to clause 2(1)(3)(A) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee's oversight findings are set forth in the Background and Need for the Legislation section of this report. No additional oversight findings are applicable at this time.
